Foundation Overview

Paul Jetter is the creator and founder of Safely Back Home™, providing additional peace of mind to families and caregivers of people who wander.

Paul's passion started through his own experience with his father, who had dementia, and whose family became his father's caregivers. Paul created the patent-pending process that uses ID information imprinted on the personal garments to be conveyed to an emergency call center, secure database and rescue operation.

Paul has 26 years experience in developing and marketing patented garment imprint transfer products distributed worldwide through major companies including Hewlett-Packard, Epson, Canon, Avery-Dennison and others.

Paul is also a certified New Jersey school teacher, in Math and Social Studies; a graduate of Rutgers University.

ProjectLifesaver.org

Project Lifesaver is the premier search and rescue program operated internationally by public safety agencies, and is strategically designed for "at risk" individuals who are prone to the life threatening behavior of wandering. The primary mission of Project Lifesaver is to provide timely response to save lives and reduce potential injury for adults and children with the propensity to wander due to a cognitive condition.

Project Lifesaver has 1,750 member agencies the U.S, Canada and Puerto Rico, and has performed over 4,250 rescues over the past 25 years with no serious injuries or fatalities ever reported. Project Lifesaver provides equipment, training, certification and support to law enforcement, public safety organizations and community groups throughout the U.S

Schools and Camps

In addition to everyday activities, the Safely Back Home™ garments are especially useful for Class Trips and Camp Field Trips. We offer custom printing of the school or camp's logo-graphic on the front of the garments and the emergency contact phone number on the sleeve, with the Safely Back Home™ logo. The school or camp can also elect to have the individual's family phone number or 911 imprinted on the garment.
